STATE AID TO RAILROADS IN KENTUCKY .- Rapidity and regularity of intercommunication between communities, States, and nations is in the present age the admitted condition precedent of progress and prosperity. All civilized communities agree in giving to this statement something of the force of a politico-economic axiom and every day's experience makes its truth more clear and indisputable. Communities, cities, States, and nations advance in wealth and general prosperity in proportion as they lise the practical importance of this axiom. The Railroad and the Electric Telegraph, as invented and perfected by modern science, are the leading instrumentalities in developing the practical importance of this truth. The first named of these is, however, for obvious reasons, the great motor power of modern progress, and may be said to pave the way for the necessity of the second.

Theoretically, the people of Kentucky (or at least a majority of them) admit the importance of this axiom, but, practically, they have as yet but a dim perception of its pre-eminent and paramount importance; consequently, we are falling far behind our sister States in the outward signs and manifestations of progress and prosperity. With our splendid climate, our prolific soil, our advantages of location, and our inexhaustible mineral resources, we are relatively retrograding in population and wealth, and no small portion of the capital of Kentucky is seeking investment in States whose internal improvements are rapidly and systematically carried forward.

The sensibly and keenly alive to the importance of some movement that shall turn the tide again in their favor. The citizens of Louisville and of the State have made great personal sacrifices and imposed upon themselves a heavy burden of taxation in order to increase their trade and commerce. They have furnished the greater pertion of the means used in the restruction of the two roads which have their termin in this city. They have also stretched out a much needed helping hand for the assistance of the road terminating on the other side of the river. So far they have only followed the dictates of an enlightened self interest. How much further Louisville ought to go, or, indeed, can go, in developing a system of improvements of which the entire State will to a certain extent receive the benefit, is a question to be discussed hereafter. At present, the point to which public attention is called is this: The State of Kentucky must adopt a more liberal and comprehensive policy in reference to her system of railroads, or be content to hold a position economically and commercially inferior to her sister States. We cannot keep up in the race of progress while we fold our arms and lay upon our oars.

The State of Virginia is setting us a glorious example. Within the past few years she has laid by her abstractions, so far as State policy is concerned. and in her sovereign capacity is giving material aid to her railroads. In a few years her hills and valleys will be covered with a net work of railroads and canals.

Missouri, which has not inaptly been called the daughter of Kentucky, is already in advance of her mother State in the race of material progress. The credit and other resources of the State have been largely employed in the prosecution of her extensive system of railroad intercommunication, and Missouri is to-day advancing in population and wealth nore rapidly than any of our Southwestern slaveholding States. The State of Tennessee has un doubtedly the most equitable and carefully-guarded general law on this subject of railroad aid of any of the Southern States. Under the beneficent ope ration of this law, she is steadily pushing forward her system of railroad improvements, and, together with ginia, bringing these improvements to our very borders. It is for Kentucky to say whether she will fill up the only remaining link in the chain of railroad improvements that ought to bind these two last-named States together; especially is it for the people of Louisville to say whether that link, when completed, shall include their city within its

It is a favorite maxim of many that the slow pro gress made in the construction of railroads in Kentucky is attributable to a want of individual energy and enterprise among our citizens. The States of Illinois, Iowa, and Wisconsin are pointed to as examples to us in this matter of pushing forward our system of railroads, but the fact is overlooked that the liberal grants of public lands made to these States by the General Government gave the first and most important impulse to their railroad enterprises. The people of Kentucky are not wanting in energy of character, nor are they deficient in public spirit. The difficulty is, that, with us, these valuable characteristics are not employed in the right direction. Let the people of Kentucky once become theroughly convinced of the necessity of a more lib eral policy on the part of the State in this respect and there will be no want of energetic action.

It is a somewhat remarkable fact that in Kentucky no important public improvement has been commenced and completed without either national, State, or municipal aid.

In olden times the State assisted in the construction of turnpike roads. The Portland canal was finished by the General Government. The slackwater navigation improvements on the Kentucky Barren, and Licking rivers were undertaken entire ly by the State. Our first railroad enterprise fell into the hands of the State for money borrowed. The city of Louisville has furnished the larger portion of the means used or to be used in the construc tion of the Nashville and the Frankfort railroads The city of Lexington has a large interest in the Covington and also in the Frankfort and Lexington roads, and the city of Maysville has also loaned both money and credit to the road connecting her with Lexington. It will thus be seen that there is no important public improvement in the State, other than those strictly municipal, that has been completed by the use of private capital alone.

In connection with the facts just stated, let u look for a moment at the actual condition of the railroad enterprises in the State completed and in progress. The Louisville and Frankfort, the Lex ington and Frankfort, and the Covington and Lexington roads are finished. These roads meet their expenses and pay the interest on their bonds, but earn nothing for the stockholders, nor are they likely to do so until the system of rathroads of which they form only a part shall be completed. The Maysville road has fallen into the hands of the mortgagees. The Henderson and Nashville road is progressing at a snail's pace. The Louisville and Nashville is dragging its slow length along, waiting to dispose of its securities, and the Lexington and Big Sandy road is at a dead stand still for want of means.

With this exhibition of facts as to our railroad improvements in this State, the question presses itself upon every citizen of Kentucky, but more especially upon every citizen of Louisville: What is the remedy for this state of things, and what course of State policy ought we to adopt? To these questions there is but one practical answer. Kentucky must profit by the experience of her sister States and adopt their policy so far as that policy has been unquestionably beneficial in its character. We cannot rely alone on municipal and county bonds. Such securities have about them no odor of nationality er sovereignty, and are easily depreciated in value The State of Kentucky must at once adopt a policy worthy of herself, by passing a general law, with comprehensive and carefully guarded provisions. similar to that now in operation in the State of Ten nessee, and public attention should be aroused to thorough discussion of this subject, so that when the Legislature shall again assemble they may be prepared to act intelligently on the matter.

"CASTLES IN THE AIR." There's a beautiful city, in a region of light, Where the hue of the sky is unchangingly bright— Where the soft breeze of summer is ever afloat, And the song-bird is trilling her liveliest note; Where the sunlight grows softly subdued as you gaze, Like the warm mellow tints of the rich, autumn haze,

When it hangs on the hills, if the days are too bright, Like the mist in the eyes, when the heart's full of light. There the rarest of flowers are forever in bloom And the whole air is filled with the richest perfun With a rich starry beauty their bright heads uplift. When the humming-bird kisses them, flitting so swift; And you eagerly list for a soft dewy voice,
That you feel must be bidding the blossoms rejoice,

They are gorgeously beautiful, charming the sight. And one is so spacious, the towers are so high You are thinking, sometimes, that they to Ever open the portals are standing for all, And a banquet is spread in the tapestried hall, Where Mappiness holdeth her revels so long, Luring smiles on her lips, magic sweet in her song.

And another fair castle looms up to the clouds. And a mantle of glory its turrets enshrouds,
And you roam through the corridors ancient and dim,
Where there floateth the strain of a glad triumph-hymn, Sung by artists and poets and sculptors around: Then from marbles and painting a clarion sound,
With rich music-words mingling, floats over Death's pyres
While Ambition lights up Fame's wild beacon fires.

Yet another there is, far more beautiful still. And 'tis built with rare grace and most exquisite skill; With the roses of joy all its portals are wreathed, In its columns and pillars warm heart-thoughts are sheath

But I never can picture the grandeur that crowds Round the beautiful cities we build in the clouds. While the gardens are glittering with bright hopes untold Till they vie with the gardens of Babylon old; And we drink in their beauty surpassingly bright. Till the sad heart is filled with the wildest delight. O! in life there is naught, can be naught half so fair, Or so sweet, as the castles we build in the air. HATTIE HEATH.

REVIVAL .- Some ten or fifteen persons have united with the Methodist church at Sheppardsville, Ky. The meeting is conducted by Rev. Mr. Gooch, the circuit minister, assisted by Rev. Messrs. Owen and Henderson, of this city. We learn that it is a gene ral work. All seem to be more or less identified with and interested in the revival.

Henry H. Howard has been elected Chief Engineer of the New York Fire Department by a plurality of 274. The whole number of votes cast was about 2,600. The office is worth $3,000 per year, and is a position of commanding influence.

"Independent," of the Philadelphia North American, thus moralizes upon the drooping fortunes of Walker:

tunes of Walker:

The great law of eternal justice may be postponed, but it must sooner or later fulfill its mission. A weak nation cannot be invaded, its towns sacked, its property pillaged, its people murdered, and its rights outraged, without provoking wrath and retribution. The blood of innocent victims cries out for vengeance, and it is to be fulfilled, that they who live by the sword must perish by the sword.

This is no doubt the kind of sermonicing with

This is no doubt the kind of sermonizing with which, if Walker fails, as is not impossible, the world will be regaled to satiety. Yet it requires but little reflection to perceive that shabbier or trashier sophistry was never flung after a sinking hero.

In the first place, as we have said before, the inhabitants of Nicaragua do not constitute a nation, in any fair interpretation of the term. If they do, so did the natives of this continent whom our fathers far less ceremoniously supplanted, and so do every tribe or congeries of tribes of savages in the remote wilds of the earth. In the second place, as we have also said before, it is a gross mistake or misrepresen tation to say that Walker invaded Nicaragua, sacked its towns, pillaged its property, murdered its people, and outraged its rights generally. On the contrary, he notoriously entered Nicaragua at the earnest solicitation of the people themselves, and, under existing forms, at once addressed himself with signal spirit and vigor to the task of establishing a permanent government for their benefit. And, notwithstanding his indisputable errors and general lack of discretion in civil affairs, he has, in the teeth of all perils, faithfully prosecuted this task up to the present moment.

If the result shall prove, as we apprehend, that he has not prosecuted it successfully, the fault will lie in his evident want of administrative ability and the excessive debasement of the people rather than in the criminality of his motive. On the other hand, if he should still succeed, and stranger things have happened, undoubtedly mankind in general, and especially his present detractors, would find no manner of difficulty in ranking him among the very tallest benefactors of the race.

And this is the upshot of the whole matter. It is simply the old injustice of estimating actions by the event. The world expects nothing better from the multitude, but it surely has a right to expect something better from the thinking few.

NEW YORK ADVERTISING AGENCY. - We have had for some years transactions with Messrs. S. M. Pettingill & Co., of New York, who have acted as our agents in procuring advertisements and making collections. In our long business intercourse with these gentlemen we have always found them prompt and reliable; and it affords us no little satisfaction to thus testify to the honorable, energetic, and faithful character of their services. To our friends of the country press who may require an agent in the commercial metropolis of the Union, we take pleasure in ecommending this firm. We feel sure that they will experience at the hands of Messrs. S. M. Pettingill & Co. all that we have said in their commen dation. In our estimate of this agency, we find that the leading papers throughout the country heartily

The Richmond Enquirer, whose belligerent unior, we believe, recently figured a few months at one of the small courts of Southern Europe, is very severe on Theodore Fay, the American Minister at Berne. In the course of an abusive notice of that gentleman, the Enquirer says:

Without conscious dignity or self-respect, he subsists upon ne smiles of his superiors. If this is true, Mr. Fay, who by the way is an ex cellent Democrat, most certainly never drew any vital support from the smiles of his Virginia critic.

EXHIBITION OF THE HIGH SCHOOL .- It will be seen by the advertisement in this morning's issue that on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday nights the pupils of the Male High School will be examined at the College building on Ninth and Chestnut streets. The exercises promise to be of a very interesting character. It is expected that Mr. Geo. W. Anderson, President of the Board of Trustees, will deliver a short address concerning the condition of the public schools.

SERIOUS FIRE IN CUBA .- On the 20th ult., at 2 P. M., a fire broke out in one of the largest foun deries of Cuba at Cienfucos, called "The National," and notwithstanding all exertions of the firemen and crew of a brig of war, nearly the whole concern was burnt down. It was said to be insured to the amount of $120,000.

COUNTERFEIT .- A new counterfeit $50 bill on the Southern Bank of Alabama has made its appearance. Between the signatures should be a dog, instead of a steamboat, as in the counterfeit; and instead of the cakes of ice seven or eight inches thick and four or word "fifty," printed on the right end, the figures '50" should appear on the upper right corner of the

More Camels Arrived .- A New Orleans dis patch of Jan. 30th says the U.S. storeship Supply. Commander Porter, has just been telegraphed at the Southwest Pass, from Smyrna, with forty-one camels on board-all of which were brought over without difficulty and in good health.

With the change in the weather the morals of the city have measurably increased. During Saturday and Sunday there were no arrests, save of a few drunken Irishmen who were making merry on the levee over the death, birth or marriage of some of their friends.

FAILURE IN WORCESTER .- The Worcester Bay State announces the failure of Henry S. Washburn & Co., the extensive iron and wire manufacturers in that city. The failure, it is said, is likely to prove WATCH FOUND .- A handsome gold watch has been found, and may be obtained of Mr. Ehrich, at the office of the Chief of Police.

RIVER AND STEAMBOAT NEWS.

The river was at a stand until Saturday evening, when it commenced rising, and up to last evening had risen eight inches, making nine and a half feet water in the canal, and about six feet on the falls. Several boats went over the falls yesterday. It commenced raining on Saturday afternoon, and during the night it turned into snow. Yesterday morning the ground was covered with it. The weather since has been quite cold.

The ice was running quite heavy yesterday, but did not prevent the running of boats. Quite a number have arrived and departed, as will be seen from our list. The ferry-boat has also been running during the last two days.

The Chancellor was the first boat up. She reached Portland about 1 o'clock on Saturday, and her arrival was announced in the Evening Bulletin of Saturday. The Woodford arrived about dusk, and the Pete Whetstone, Diamond, Rainbow, Bonita, and others yesterday. The Bonita, it will be remembered, was frozen in by the ice a short distance below Salt river, and sustained much damage. She put her freight on shore, and has now returned for

The Supeior, in command of the veteran Captain Summons, left for Cincinnati yesterday.

The R. M. Patton, Capt. Barnard, is on her way up from Paducah, with 1,300 bales of cotton. The Patton is a sternwheeler, but beats a good many sidewheelers.

The steamer Chicago, from Cincinnati bound to Pittsburg, is sunk at the foot of Captina. She belonged in Pittsburg and was insured there for $10,000.

Two bargers laden with coal for Cincinnati and belonging to Capt. Blackmore were sunk at Pittsburg by the ice on Friday.

The towboat Champion No. 3 had a hole knocked into her by the ice at Cincinnati on Friday, but was kept afloat. Efforts are making to raise the steamers Yorktown No. 2 and A. W. Quarrier. The Dunleith and Thomas Shriver have been raised. The Telegraph No. 3 Wm. M. Morrison, J. S. Pringle, and Hickman were also injured by the ice.

The Lafayette (Ind.) Journal, of Friday, says: The Lafayette (Ind.) Journal, of Friday, says:

The first rain of any consequence for fourteen months commened night before last, and up to our going to press last night had steadily continued, and we are in the midst of a deluge. In the east and northern portions of the city whole squares are inundated, the water in many instances standing several feet upon the lower floors. The damage to property is considerable, while the inconvenience and disagreeableness is beyond calculation.

The Memphis Bulletin of the 3d notices the arrival of the T. C. Twichell with the passengers of the Niagara, their baggage, mails, some 200 tons of fright, and all the live stock. The Woodford, Chancellor, and Europa have brought the cabin fixtures and machinery of the Niagara to this port.

We are under many obligations to the clerks of the Chancellor, Messrs. McLaughlin and Smith of the Woodford, the clerks of the Pete Whetstone, and Mr. Thos. Reeder of the Diomond for favors.

Boats Leaving To-Day .- The swift steamer A. L Shotwell, Capt. Elliott, and the excellent steamer Chancellor, Capt. Stewart, leave for New Orleans to-day. They are both splendid boats.

The Switzerland and other boats are also advertised to leave to-day.

The elegant packet Southerner, Capt. Triplett, leaves for St. Louis to-morrow. The S. and Capt. T. are decided favorites with the trade.

THE JEFFERSONVILLE FERRY .- The Journal's denunciation on Saturday of the management of this ferry was certainly very sweeping. The public complaints have been great and numerous, and almost every man fully believed that there must be good cause for them.

Capt. Shallcross, the superintendent and chief proprietor of the ferry, has been well known for very many years as a public-spirited citizen willing to do everything to promote the accommodation of the community even at a frequent sacrifice of his own interest. He is now confined to his own house by indisposition, but we are informed that a few days ago he gave orders to his employees to make every possible effort to put the ferry-boats across the river if both of them should be sunk in the trial.

Two weeks ago yesterday one of the ferry-boats took us and others across although the difficulties and perils were almost appalling .. At one point the boat was carried down by the ice to the very verge of the falls and saved only by great coolness and skill. Repeated and most determined efforts were made before success could be achieved. On Saturday last we came from Jeffersonville to this side on one of the boats, although she must have been much injured and considerably endangered by the solid five feet square, closely packed together and extending several hundred feet from the land. A storm of wind was blowing at the time, so high that the boat was unable to land at her usual wharf on this side and was obliged after repeated trials to land considerably above.

We cannot doubt, that, whatever neglect there may have been at times in the past, the ferry-boats are now plied and will continue to be plied with praiseworthy energy. We hope our worthy old friend Capt. Shallcross knows that we could not willingly do him injustice or permit it to be done by

SALE OF BRAHMIN STOCK .- Mr. Charles McHatton, of Baton Rouge, La., sold at public sale in the city of New Orleans, on the 9th ult., eighteen head of cattle, of the "Brahmin" and "Royal Damascus Arabian" breeds, which brought an aggregate of $3,745. Twelve of them were females ranging from seven months to five years old, and six of them males from seven months to four years old. The twelve females brought $2,070-an average of $172 50; and the six males brought $1,675-an average of $275 and some cents each. Ten of the twelve females were of the Brahmin stock, and five of the six males were Brahmins-all the Brahmins being descended from the animals owned by Mr. Thoms Eades, of Lexington, and nearly all of them raised

The Troy Whig understands that Gen. Wool's request to be relieved from the command in California has been granted, and that orders for him to pass his charge over to the next officer in command are already on their way to California.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE-A LEAP FOR LIFE.-This norning about 1 o'clock a fire broke out in the wholesale grocery establishment of C. Gallagher & Co., and rapidly extended to the adjoining house, occupied by R. Atkinson. As we go to press the entire block is in imminent peril, and will doubtless be destroyed.

These buildings were perhaps the finest ever built for business purposes in the city. Messrs. Smith & Rowland were the original proprietors, but they have since then sold a portion of them.

The Galt House was in great danger, though it was hoped that it might be saved. Many of the boarders left with their baggage.

Mr. Pearson, an elderly gentleman, engaged at Gallagher & Co.'s, in order to escape death, had to throw himself from the third story. The fall was somewhat broken by bedding being placed on the pavement. He was lying at the Galt House in a very critical condition.

EMANCIPATION IN MISSOURI.—The Central Advoate, Methodist organ, of Missouri, comes out cautiously in favor of emancipation. It speaks in highly eulogistic terms of the discussion of the emancipation question in the Missouri Legislature, and 'would deplore any strife or vicious feeling," sees 'no necessity for strife among neighbors and fellow citizens," in the discussion of even the slavery question. The Advocate has the assurance to believe slavery a great evil, and desires its removal.

The American Guano Company received by the Illinois advices from the Sandwich Islands in regard to their expedition to the guano island. A whaler had arrived at the Sandwich, a boat's erew from which had landed on the island, and report everything as before described, and that plenty of guano existed there. The ship with the agent sent out by the Company would soon sail for the island to obtain a cargo of guano.

LONG ISLAND SOUND FROZEN OVER .- For the first time, there is solid ice from the Connecticut shore to Long Island. Persons cross the Sound to Long Island on the ice, from Fort Chester, West Chester county, N. Y., and also from Throgg's Neck, near Fort Schuyler. The harbor at New Haven is frozen as tight as Baffin's Bay.

THE ICE SOUTH .- The Norfolk Herald of Saturday last says:

Capt. Pearce, with the U.S. mail, in company with Capt. S. Parker, of this city, with Mr. Thomas Gil-liam, left Plymouth, N. C., on Tuesday, and crossed the Albemarle Sound to Edenton on the ice, distance

The Elizabeth City (N. C.) Pioneer, also says: We understand that Currituck Sound is frozen en-tirely over, and that double horse sleighs are safely running upon the ice.

The Easton (Md.) Gazette of Saturday has the following:

Capt. Levin Colbert and John W. Kemp, Esq., on Monday went out about a mile on the ice on East-tern Bay, off their farms, and cut a hole through the ice in search of oysters, and after some ten or a dozen bushels of oysters had been procured, went after a sled with two horses attached, accompanied by a dozen men drawn thither, and men, horses, sled, and oysters all on the ice at once, on one spot, came off without the least crack in the ice, in perfect safety. The ice was thirteen inches thick, and clear as crystal.

A FIGHTING FAMILY .- A correspondent of the Baltimore Patriot, writing from Towsontown, a vil lage in the vicinity of Baltimore, relates the follow-

This evening our little village was thrown into great excitement by the intelligence that a party were brought before one of our county magistrates for resisting officers, threatening to kill, &c. The facts in the case are startling and sympathetic; it is charged that a certain Abraham Rider, of this county, seduced a Miss Fuller, residing on the Fall's road some eight miles from the city, and her two county, seduced a Miss Fuller, residing on the Fall's road, some eight miles from the city, and her two brothers, Charles and Robert, who are at present residing in Baltimore, came out to their father's house on Monday last for the purpose of ascertaining facts in regard to the case and getting revenge. Between three and four o'clock on the following morning they went to Rider's dwelling and got into the house, and as soon as they laid eyes on Rider the house, and as soon as they laid eyes on finder they both presented their revolvers at his head, and told him that he should go with them and marry their sister immediately, or they would have satis-faction on the spot; but sooner than accused would consent to meet his God on so short a notice, he concluded to comply with their proposition to marry; therefore the two heroes and vindicators of their sisters character took their captive to their father's residence, where the injured sister awaited their arrival. However, before a minister could be procured, information reached Rider's brother (a jury-man at our court here), who immediately made man at our court nere), who immediately made complaint to the proper authorities, and sent the deputy sheriff, Mr. T. Schnoffield, and constable R. S. Blackley, to not only liberate his brother, but save him from the forced marriage. These two energetic officers put spurs to their horses and started at full speed to liberate the forced groom and bring the next to justice. When they arrived at Mr. Joshua E. Fuller's house they found the door barred, and, on asking for permission to enter, heard a voice inside say, "Charles, look out for the door," to which some one replied, "I will take care of that," but the door was opened by the young lady, and the officers rushed in.

As soon as Mr. Blackley entered the house he heard a pistol report in the passage, but he did not know who was fired at. After he and tne deputy sheriff ran in the first room they seized Messrs. Joshua K. Fuller, the young lady's father (who surrendered), and Robert Fuller and Charles Fuller, her brothers. The latter resisted, and Charles drew a pistol on Blackley, but the old lady (Mrs. Fuller) knocked it out of his hand, or else Blackley would have been a corpse. At this moment Mr. Blackley drew his revolver to shoot his antagonist, but Mrs. Fuller running between them prevented him from firing. A lucky occurrence, or Charles Fuller this night would have been a corpse. It appears that the whole party, father, mother, sister and brothers, were determined on compelling Rider to marry, or avenge the wrong by murder. Even Mrs. Fuller, an old lady, had two pistols in her hands, and was avenge the wrong by murder. POLITICAL EXCITEMENT IN CANADA.—The political excitement in Canada at the present moment seems to be at fever heat. The struggle now is to obtain a majority of representatives to the new Provincial Parliament. The Canadian papers are filled with the most bitter and exciting articles, exceeding in that respect anything published in the United States during the recent Presidential canvass. At meetings in Upper Canada the undue preference given by the supporters of the Ministry to the extortionate demands of Lower Canada are denounced, and they are charged with being the enemies of a responsible Government. At Elgin the Ministerial candidate, with about one hundred of his followers, entered a meeting of the Reformers in a most frantic state of excitement, threw down the stove, and declared that they would "smoke out the Clear Grits." The London Free Press says that this is the fourth meeting that has been broken up by violence during the canvass.

IMPORTANT FROM RIO .- Messrs. Maxwell, Wright, & Co.'s Rio Circular, of the 13th ult., says we learn that the law passed the last session of the Brazilian Legislative Assembly raising the export duty on coffee from 9 to 11 per cent. will be put into execution on the 1st January next.

We are also informed that in consequence of the increasing cost of labor the shipping houses of Rio de Janeiro find themselves obliged to increase the charge of shipping expenses, and that it will be probably advanced after the 1st January from about 160 rials per bag to 240 rials.

LARGE FIRE AND GREAT LOSS OF PROPERTY .-On the morning of January 23 a fire broke out at Shreveport, La., destroying the market-house and the stores of Messrs. T. Short, Henry Markham, W. C. Trabue, Chas. Long, and A. Enas; also a merchant tailor's establishment, a variety store, and a restaurant. Loss estimated at $50,000. No in-

INTERESTING FROM NEW MEXICO.-The following description of the silver mine region of New Mexico, recently taken possession of by emigrants from the States, was addressed to Dr. Scales, of this city, and will no doubt be very interesting to our readers, who desire to know something of this rich new country situated somewhere in the neighborhood of sunset:

TUBAC, New Mexico, Dec. 1, 1856. My Dear Sie: After my long journey I find myself comfortably situated in the valley of the Holy Cross (Santa Cruz), in the full and undisturbed possession of the quarters vacated by the Mexican garrison, when they abandoned the old town of Tubac after an occupation on not the best in the world, but the best in the Territory, and by a little repair I have contrived to make the commandant's rooms so that I can write and read by a good firestide.

dant's rooms so that I can write and read by a good fireside.

A command of 400 Light Dragoons have since arrived and taken up their quarters within about fifteen miles, so that our fears of the Apaches are considerably diminished.

As to mines. We have only made one or two regular prospecting tours, but these proved so successful that all the time since has been occupied in getting hands to work on the ore, and preparations are now being made for smelting and refining. The silver ore yields 10 to 33 per cent, and plenty of it close to wood, water, and grass. This valley is the best in the Territory and centains some very good land, but it all requires irrigation, a process which the Americans neither understand nor like. The productions are, or rather were, wheat, barley, corn, beans, peas, grapes, peaches, pears, figs, granadas, quinces, &c. The grazing is good—equal to many parts of Texas and California. No grain is fed to stock during the year round—the grasses are sufficiently abundant and nutritious, and the range is very extensive.

At the present time we have a fall of snow on the mountains and rain in the valley—distance apart about 10 miles.
I am advised it never snows in the valley, but remains on the mountain tops nearly all winter, giving a beautiful view.

The Santa Cruz river sinks a few miles below here and the mountain tops nearly all winter, giving a beautiful view.

The Santa Cruz river sinks a few miles below here and rises again before reaching Meron, filled with alkalies and impurities, making that vicinity very unhealthy, and particularly subject to chills and fevers. I had a spell of them upon my arrival, which disgusted me entirely with that disease as well as all vicinities where they are engendered. We had rather a lonesome time at first, as all the company was sick, but since the arrival of the troops have more company at Tubac than we wish.

A countryman of ours, one Palatine Robinson, and his wife, came over with the command, and have become residents of this ancient and honorable town by commencing housekeeping on the opposite side of the plaza from me.

Tatwo or three years every inch of the arable land in this salley will be occupied, and by that time we hope to have the mines under full headway.

Our hunters have fine fun killing turkeys, deer, and occasionally a grizzley; and at present a vegetarian would have a poor chance for a living.

I should be glad to hear from you again, as news is very desirable, and a mail route is now opened direct by military express from the Rio Grande via Independence and Santa

CHARLES D. POSTON.

MICROSCOPIC EXAMINATION OF THE RETINA OF THE EYE .- The New York Times says:

A scientific French gentleman has lately discovered, or is stated to have discovered, the startling fact that the eye of a corpse retains the last object visible to it in life; the object being ineffaceably daguerreotyped upon the retina, and merely requiring a powerful microscope to bring it out. Successful experiments, it is asserted, have been made in Europe in these ordical developments and we are given to unthese optical developments, and we are given to un-derstand that the experiment was lately tried at Buffalo, in this State, with the happiest results.

No such experiments have been made in Buffalo to our knowledge. In the murder of Beadle, at Auburn, such an examination was made, and a very Auburn, such an examination was made, and a very confused account was given of something very indefinite having been seen. Prof. Doremus, of New York, has been called before the coroner's jury, now sitting in the Burdell case, to state his opinion as to the propriety of such an examination of the eye of the murdered man. He says: "In the first place, should there be any impression left upon the retina of the eye, it would be impossible so long after death, in consequence of the opacity of the humors of the eye, to take with the microscope, or any other instrument, such impression. And again, supposing it was immediately after death, we have no authority, as far as I have been able to learn—and I have inquired of several physiologists this morning—we inquired of several physiologists this morning-we have no scientific authority on which to base an investigation. These two statements, it seems to me, are sufficient." The following objections confirm Prof. Doremus: 1st. Immediately after death nervous matter coagulates on the surface, thus destroying any impression made upon it.

2d. Decomposition follows rapidly.

3d. The humors of the eye become mixed and opaque.

4th. The most careful dissection will very much disturb the retina, which is of about the appearance and consistence of boiled tapioca.

The hypothesis on which such examinations are founded, is that the impression on the retina is not a mere reflection, like that of a looking glass, but that the nervous substance undergoes a positive change, like that effected in the sensitive silver of a daguerrecotype plate. It is only necessary to add that this theory remains to be proven, and that, should it be found correct, the phenomena of death will inevitably destroy all evidence of such impression.

MEMPHIS AND LITTLE ROCK RAILROAD. - The

Memphis Bulletin says:

Memphis Bulletin says:

We learned yesterday, from a gentleman who is not given to building castles in the clouds, that there is a good probability of a company being made up to take the entire grading and cross-tying of this road, from Hopefield to Little Rock. The plan is, to do the work with negro labor. If the plan is carried out, the persons undertaking will have one hundred of their own negroes engaged, besides one or two hundred more hired ones. The enterprise is rising up again, and will, we trust, soon be firmly on its feet.

COMMERCIAL NOTIFICATIONS .- Information has been received at the State Department from Mr. E. B. Ames, United States Consul at Hamburg, that "the import duty on cotton and woollen and halfwool yarn," and also the export duty on all articles, have been abolished by the city of Hamburg.

Information has also been received at the Depart ment from Nicholas Pike, Esq., United States Consul at Oporto, that by a royal decree of the 3d of December last, maize is admitted into all the ports in the kingdom paying the same duty as before, namelytwenty reis per one hundred pounds. Vessels bring ing a full cargo of grain are exempted from the payment of tonnage dues. Vessels bringing in complete cargoes are exempted in proportion to the quantity they bring.

THE VARIETIES.

David Strawn, Esq., the largest cattle feeder in Illinois, has furnished a statement showing the amount of corn raised by the several tenants during the last season on his farm four miles from Ottawa. According to this statement, 21,620 bushels of corn have been raised on 350 acres, making an average of 601/2 bushels to the acre. When it is considered that the last season was unusually dry and unfavorable, the Free Trader believes such a yield per acre, on so large a body of land, is unparalleled in northern Illinois

The Newburn (N. C.) Transcript says that within tem or twelve miles of that city, on the north side of the Neuse, bears, catamounts, and wild-cats exist in such numbers that it is impossible to raise

In the case of Taylor vs. Taylor at Fredericks-burg, Va., Judge John Robertson, the counsel for the plaintiff, last week made a speech which occupied five days.

Twenty-five casks of porter froze and exploded on the Grand Trunk Railway a few days since.

The banking capital of New York is now over ninety-six million dollars, and has more than doubled in the last six years. Four hundred and fifty houses have been erected in La Crosse, Wis., during the past year, and the population has nearly doubled.

The Indians of California are fast becoming exterminated by disease and famine.

The (old) New Hampshire Gazette is the oldest paper in the country, having just entered upon its second century.

Thirty thousand passengers were carried last year by the steamships between Europe and the United States, including eastern and western passages.

Quite an important case to merchants was decided on Friday in the New York Supreme Court. The action was brought to test the validity of a sale and delivery of silk goods, which were purchased in October last at eight per cent. off for cash. When a check was demanded for the amount, the purchaser contended that cash meant payment at thirty days, to which the seller demurred, and had the goods seized by the sheriff after they had been delivered. The seizure was confirmed by the verdict of the Cheap Shirts .- In the forests of Orinoko, South America, there is a tree which often grows to the height of fifty feet, from which the natives are said to procure shirts, to do which they have only to strip the tree of its bark and deprive it of its red fibrous parts. To put them on, the head is thrust through one end, and lantern holes are cut to admit the arms and, according to Humboldt, they are equal to our India rubber goods for keeping out the wet.

On the 25th ult. there were forty-five vessels frozen in at Holmes' Hole. Eight were ashore, but will probably be got off without damage. It is for-tunate for the inhabitants that the vessels made a harbor at their village, as they furnished them with supplies of coal, flour, and corn, which had begun to run low on account of the protracted ice embargo. There was no water to be seen from the harbor at Holmes' Hole; the ice had drifted in some ten feet Artificial Milk .- It is now manufactured quite extensively in France, from bones! It is made by put-ting a certain weight of bones with a little meat with six times the weight of water, in Papin's di-gester. Being sealed hermetically, and raising the heat to 140 deg. F., in forty minutes, from a stop-cock, a white liquid comes out. It is nutricious, be-ing a kind of broth, but has really none of the chem-ical properties of milk.—Medical World.

We have just heard of one of the noblest deeds of humanity that it has ever been our lot to record. Peter Falcon, of Cohasset, during the late terrible storms, saved the lives of eleven shipwrecked seamen. Although strongly urged not to leave the shore, Peter Falcon fastened life-preservers to his knees and went on his hands and knees on the ice upwards of a quarter of a mile to the barque New Empire and ship California, wrecked on the coast, and rescued the lives of eleven men. All honor to Peter Falcon. So says the Boston Ledger.

A REVOLUTIONARY HERO IN WANT .- A petition A REVOLUTIONARY HERO IN WANT.—A petition was presented in the House of Representatives yesterday, from Mr. Benjamin Smith of Wayland, late of Needham, aged 93 years, and who had been a soldier during the last three years of the war of Independence, for aid from the Commonwealth, to support him in the few remaining days of his fast declining life. The general government allows him a pension of $96 per annum, but this is entirely insufficient to support him, and furnish that care his age and infirmities demand.

None of his family are able to give him support, and hence his petition. Mr. Smith enlisted in the Revolutionary army when sixteen years of age, and served under General Heath of Roxbury, and Capt.

Many of our readers will recollect the old man as he appeared in the procession of the city authorities and others on the last 4th of July. On the few pres-ents he received at that time he has since subsisted, and new want and the prospect of a life of destitu-tion force the venerable patriot to appeal to the gratitude of the people of that Commonwealth, to whose fame he and his compatriots have so largely contributed, for a support to which his patriotism certainly gives him a good title, independently of charity.—Boston Journal.

HARD TO KILL .- A negro in the employ of G. W. Conway, Esq., got into a snow bank and passed the whole of Sunday night (18th), the night of the storm, up to his shoulders in that agreeable position. He was full of whisky, and had a bottle full in his pocket, which he could not get at. He was found early Monday morning, and had not fifteen minutes life in him, but, wonderful to tell, was revived and still lives. Cold weather can't kill that darkie and the whisky together. Both must have been very strong.—Fredericksburg News.

Horse Over a Man.—As Mr. Nichols, of Shelby county, Ky., was riding ahead of a drove of cattle, which he was bringing down York street, Newport, to the ferry-boat, yesterday, his horse stumbled and fell, throwing Mr. N., and then rolling over him. No bones were broken, but he was severely injured in his chest. He was taken to Mr. Jackson's Exchange, and had prompt medical attention, and will recover.—Cin. Commercial.

An affray occurred on Dauphin street yesterday between Capt. Luck Wainwright, and a steamboat pilot named Thompson, in which the latter was severely cut. We did not learn the particulars of the difficulty. It will be examined in the Mayor's court. Mobile Adv.

MR. CUNNINGHAM'S MURDERER TO BE PUNISHED .-A Commercial Proclamation to the Americans .- Wang, President of the Board of War, Viceroy of the Fuhkien and Cheh-kiang Provinces, makes this proclamation for general information:

With reference to the mart of trade in the s With reference to the mart of trade in the southern suburbs of Fuh-chan, where the five regions concentrate and men of business congregate from all quarters, while the smoke of the population ascends in dense masses, it appears that hitherto the merchants from foreign countries have here carried on trade, purchasing teas, paying duties, and selling their goods, their numbers constantly increasing; it is consequently the more necessary that the native Chinese should protect them and transact business with them according to the principles of justice, thus preserving relations of friendship. But it appears that during the former part of this year one Tung-hua-kieng, a Chinese in the Min district, in consequence of a dispute and altercation, murderously stabbed and wounded the American, Howard Cunningham, causing his death. Truly, in the eyes of this man, there is no regard for the laws.

ously stabbed and wounded the American, Howard Cunningham, causing his death. Truly, in the eyes of this man, there is no regard for the laws.

Having urgently commanded the Min district magistrate to examine into the matter, he has reported to me that he has arrested the murderer, Tung-nua-kieng, and that, on examination, the man has confessed his guilt without any reserve. It only remains, therefore, to punish the criminal with rigor, according to the laws of China, when the Provincial authorities shall have examined the matter and memorialized the Throne with regard to it.

I therefore address a communication on the subject to his Excellency, Peter Parker, United States Commissioner, &c., for his examination, and, as is proper, issue this proclamation for general information, commanding all Chinese traders and others to conduct themselves peaceably, each one attending to his own duty, and, in transacting business with foreigners, to act justly, thus preserving relations of friendship, and to avoid whatever may cause a disturbance, or may be offensive to them. If any one dares to disobey, and persist in following his old practices, on the first representation of the matter to me, I will thoroughly examine into it, and will certainly punish the guilty parties according to the laws of China, not showing the least mercy. Let all fear and obey, and not violate this proclamation.

[From the Poughkeepsie Telegraph.] A terrible controversy has arisen in the Presby-terian church at Washingtonville, Orange county, New York, in consequence of the congregation being divided between old and new school parties, their trustees taking one side and the elders the other. The Middletown Whig Press says that two divines were announced to preach on Sunday, the 18th inst

The Middletown Whig Press says that two divines were announced to preach on Sunday, the 18th inst., at the same hour; Dr. Halsey (old school), and Rev. A. Seward (new school) of Port Jervis. At 11 o'clock the trustees put Dr. Halsey in the pulpit, and stationed themselves on the stairs of the pulpit to prevent Mr. Seward entering the same.

The elders presented themselves with Mr. Seward, and demanded an entrance. Mr. Seward attempted to go up, but was prevented by the trustees. He then protested against the trustees in the name of the elders and Presbytery, in their attempting to interfere with spiritual affairs of the church, and announced that Rev. Mr. Peloubet (new school) would preach the next Sunday, 25th. Dr. Halsey then compreach the next Sunday, 25th. Dr. Halsey then commenced service, and at the close announced that he would preach the next Sunday (25th); the trustees had a constable in the church ready for any emer-

On Sunday last, the 25th, similar scenes were re-On Sunday last, the 25th, similar scenes were re-enacted. The Press says that the trustees, a ma-jority of whom are old school, having possession of the church, put Dr. Halsey into the pulpit again, at an early hour. The eldest (new school) claimed the pulpit, and demanded the right to enter with their supply, Rev. A. Seward, who came in the place of Ray M. Pelouhet, but the trustees kent them and . Mr. Peloubet; but the trustees kept them and their supply out by force, having the officer to assist them. Dr. Halsey commenced worship at 11 o'clock precisely, and the new school party, feeling they had protested sufficiently, quietly took their seats and listened attentively to an interesting discourse and listened attentively to an interesting discourse from the Rev. Doctor.

At the close of the worship, the elders announced that the Rev. Mr. Timlow, of Amity (new school), would preach next Sunday, February 1, and that Dr. Judd, also new school, would preach on Sunday, February 8, and administer the Lord's Supper. One of the trustees (old school) got up and said, as a trustee, he countermanded what had just been announced by the elders. Thus matters stood at the last accounts. It strikes us that it would be wise in the clercy on both sides, instead of taking part, to the clergy on both sides, instead of taking part, to keep away from the church entirely until the strife is settled, as they gain nothing by interfering.

"IT Sounds so Funny."-A few evenings since a little bright-eyed, fair-haired girl, who, during the afternoon had exhibited a child's petulance because her wishes in regard to a piece of candy were not acceded to by her mother, knelt at her mother's knee to say her evening prayers before going to rest. oming sincerity and simplicity she repeated the beautiful verse-

"Now I lay me down to sleep," and, after that, that other sweet hymn-

"Gentle Jesus, meek and mild," and then, looking up into her mother's face, said:
"Mother, I have another little prayer I want to say." "Well, my dear, kneel down and say it," said the mother. So the little one kneeled down and commenced: "Oh God, make Ella a good girl, and make Ella love her parents; Oh God, I'm sorry
I teazed for the nut candy"—and then she hesitated for a second and burst out in a hearty laugh.
"What makes you laugh?" asked her mother.
"Why, mother, that sounds so funny," was the reply. The little one's gravity for the time being was disturbed, and after planting a fond kiss on her mother's cheek, she ran away to her little bed. "Gentle Jesus, meek and mild," mother's cheek, she ran away to her little bed.

in favor of Porter's Oriental Life Liniment: in favor of Porter's Oriental Life Liniment:

Dr. R. D. Porter—
Sir: Having been induced to purchase several bottles of your Oriental Life Liniment, by the many valuable recipes which you publish, I was persuaded to give it a trial in frost-bites and fresh carriand wounds, which I found essentially beneficiar. My brother has also tried it in diseases of horses—one case where the left hip was shrinking away, producing stiffness of the entire limb, rendering the animal almost useless—has used but one bottle and part of a second, and assured me it had almost effected a cure. I have no hesitancy in recommending it, and believe it is a valuable remedy in the diseases attending man or beast, for which you offer it to the public.

JACKSON COUNCIL.—There will be a meeting of Jackson Council this evening at 61/2 o'clock. Prompt attendance is expected from every member. The Americans of Jackson have won a high fame for their devotion to their principles and their prompt obedience when duty calls. They sleep only on their arms and are always ready. Let them keep their armor bright and their council fires blazing, so that the laurels they have won shall never fade.

DISASTROUS FIRE-A WHOLE BLOCK OF BUILD-INGS DESTROYED-Loss $250,000 .- One of the largest fires that has occurred here for several years broke out about half-past 1 o'clock this morning in the store of Messrs. Gallagher & Co., which spread with extraordinary rapidity, and before it could be got under destroyed it and the three warehouses on the east and two small buildings on the west. The four warehouses were four stories high and extended from Main to Washington street. The two small houses were between the warehouses and the Galt

The warehouses had a heavy cornice and by it the fire was communicated from house to house. The buildings were also very high, and very few of the engines succeeded in getting the water on the roofs. Before the firemen arrived with their apparatus, the whole store of Gallagher & Co. was in flames.

Messrs. Gallagher & Co. carried on a general grocery and commission business. Their stock consisted of bagging and bale rope, coffee, teas, wines, etc. They estimate their loss at $60,000, and were fully insured-about $40,000 in this city and the remainder at the East. They lost everything, even their books and papers. Mr. Gallagher owned the building, which was partially insured here.

Mr. Richard Atkinson, produce and commission merchant, occupied the adjoining warehouse. His stock in store consisted of 500 tierces lard, 350 bags coffee, 80 hhds bacon, 60 bbls whisky, 40 bales sheetings, and some other articles, on which he had an insurance of $25,000 in foreign agencies in the city. He saved all his books and papers. The warehouse occupied by him had recently been bought by Mitchell, Guthrie, & Co.

Messrs. Brannin & Summers, produce, grocery, and commission merchants, adjoined Mr. Atkinson. Everything in their house was destroyed, but they saved their books and papers. Their loss is nearly $50,000, and they are fully insured.

Messrs. Bartley, Johnson, & Co. lost also every thing. Their safe, containing all their books and papers, was thrown out of the second-story window and fell through the sidewalk, where it remains safe. They were insured for $25,000 in the home and local offices, which about covers their loss.

The two warehouses occupied by Bartley, Johnson & Co. and Brannin & Summers were owned by the heirs of John L. Martin, and presume their value was about $20,000. There was no insurance on them.

Messrs. Mitchell, Guthrie, & Co. had an insurance of $8,500 on their building occupied by Mr. Atkinson and $5,000 on a lot of bulk meat stored in the cellar. Some of this may be saved.

Messrs. Armstrong, Allen, & Co. had a quantity of bacon stowed in Bartley, Johnson, & Co.'s, on which they had an insurance of $9,000.

Mr. Raine had a quantity of liquor in Gallagher & Co.'s store, on which he had an insurance of $5,000. He also occupied the two small buildings between the Galt House and the four-story block, which were the bar and store-rooms of the Galt House, and the contents of which were insured for $5,000. One of the buildings was owned by the heirs of John Tyler and the other by Mr. Nock, and they were insured for $1,500.

The firms burned out were among the largest in this city. Owing to the long suspension of navigation their stocks were unusually small.

The total loss by this fire, at the lowest estimate, is $250,000, and the insurance here in home and foreign offices is $181,000, which may be increased by insurance elsewhere to $200,000. Messrs. Gallagher & Co. are not only the heaviest losers in goods, but they had also all their books and papers destroyed.

As to the origin of the fire nothing positive is known. It commenced in the front part of Messrs. Gallagher & Co.'s house, and from the fact that Mr. Gallagher has been burned out several times it is inferred that the fire was the work of an incendiary.

Col. Pearson, an aged gentleman, slept in third story of Gallagher & Co.'s store. When he awoke he found all avenues of egress cut off. Bedding was placed in the street, and he took a leap from the third story window, a height of about 38 feet, and alighted on the bedding. In the fall, he struck with his feet some part of the building that the city authorities suffer such negligence on which projected and was injured. He broke no bones, but his recovery is doubtful.

The river is rising slowly, with 7 feet water in the Indiana chute and 4 feet in the Middle chute. The Chancellor, Woodford, and Southerner will come up over the falls this evening.

We are indebted to Mr. Mitchell of the David White for a manifest.

REMOVAL.-Mr. R. Atkinson has opened an office on the north side of Main street, between Second and Third streets, adjoining Dumesniel, Bell, & Co. Messrs. Brannin & Summers have taken a house on Wall street, between Main and Water, adjoining T. H. Hunt & Co.

Messrs. Bartley, Johnson, & Co., have taken a house on Second street, between Main and Market, adjoing Hull, Hunt, & Co.

We do not know where Messrs. Gallagher & Co. have located themselves.

Oscar F. Redman, an assistant engineer on the David White, was lost overboard from that boat on Monday night near Brandenburg. He was not missed until half an hour after the accident happened, and, as the ice was running heavily, it is hardly possible that he could have reached shore. Mr. R. was a resident of this city.

The authorities in Lexington, Ky., arrested on Saturday a negro man for stealing letters from the postoffice.

[ From this morning's Journal.] THIRTY-FOURTH CONGRESS-SECOND SESSION. Saturday's Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. Senate.—Mr. Weller, from the committee on Military Affairs, reported back, with amendments, the House bill for increased pay of the officers of the army. He will ask its consideration early next

Mr. Bigler presented nineteen memorials from merchants and others of Philadelphia, praying the adoption of measures for increasing the trade be-tween the United States and Africa.

Mr. Seward presented three memorials from the same city on that subject. Referred to the committee on Commerce.

Mr. Toombs presented a memorial from General Shields and other citizens of Minnesota, setting forth Shields and other citizens of Minnesota, setting forth that although that Territory contains 200,000 inhabitants, yet it has hitherto received no grant of lands, in conformity with the policy of government to grant lands upon certain conditions to new States, for railroad purposes. They set forth that, three years ago, Congress made a grant to Minnesota for railroads, but in consequence of the unwarrantable interference of persons whose interests were not identified with the Territory, the grant was subsequently repealed. At the last session there was another application to Congress for aid, but the constant and pertinacious influences foreign to the good of the Territory had prevented action on this application, while many clous influences foreign to the good of the Territory had prevented action on this application, while many other States were made recipients of the bounty of government. At the present session Minnesota again presented her claims, and while the House committee of Public Lands were maturing a bill for her benefit, a cry of fraud was raised against the measure. Without wishing to impugn the motives of any person, they beg leave to say that so far as Minnesota and her citizens are concerned, they invite the most rigid scrutiny into each and every act, and are constrained to believe that outside monied and are constrained to believe that outside monied and other influences, over which they had no control, have endeavored to make the necessities of Minnesota an opportunity to speculate on the liberality of Congress, and the vital interests of that young and vigorous Territory.

Mr. Toombs said this petition presented a curious state of things. He had given careful attention to it, and thought it well worthy the consideration of Congress.

The inhabitants of Minnesota have been made the The inhabitants of Minnesota have been made the sport of outside speculators. Tueir just rights ought to be respected, and their request is reasonable that grants of land ought to be made to the Legislature, subject to their own future disposition, instead of designating particular companies. He introduced a bill making grants in accordance with the prayer of the petitioners, which was referred to the committee on Public Lands. Adjourned.

LATER AND FAVORABLE FROM WALKER .- The following is a dispatch dated New York, Feb. 5.

By information received through Gen. Cazneau, from a gentleman who arrived on Wednesday morning, via Havana, from California, it appears that when he was at San Juan, on the 21st ult., he stopped there for a few hours, and had a conversation with Mr. Scott, the Nicaragua Transit Company's agent, informed him that a steamer in first-rate condition was about to start up the river with between two and three lundred men to take possession of the dition was about to start up the river with between two and three hundred men, to take possession of the forts held by the allies, about two hundred miles up. General Caznean's informant also had a conversa-tion with Col. Kinney at Greytown, and learned from him that he had received word from Walker about six days previous that there was great dissat-isfaction among the allies, and that the Costa Ricans were deserting largely to Walker.

From the New York Herald of Thursday,

THE LATIST NEWS FROM WALKER—His dispo-sation to Capitulate Denied.—We have received intel-ligence by the Cahawba, which differs very materi-ally from the accounts sent to this city from New Obleans.

Mr. Stagers, the United States mail agent, was the only passenger in the Canada who landed at Greytown. He was informed by the U.S. Consul that the Costa Ricans had never occupied Greytown, that the Costa Ricans had never occupied Greytown, as reported, nor had they come in the vicinity of the city. The commander of the English fleet, which is cruising in the neighborhood of this port, notified the inhabitants that they must preserve order, and that if a drop of white blood was shed or an Englishman or American injured, he would immediately interfere and punish the offenders. The an Englishman or American injured, he would immediately interfere and punish the offenders. The English naval force at this station is composed of a three-decker, a steam-sloop, and two gun-boats—an armament sufficiently large to cause the commander's threat to be regarded. The Consul also stated that Colonel Lockridge, who is stationed immediately opposite Greytown, had received news from Walker, who was still at Rivas, a distance of 155 miles. What the purport of it was he did not know, but it was rumored that a combined movement was to be made by Walker and Colonel Lockridge, to regain possession of the steamers and re-establish their power on the river. Fears were expressed that the Costa Ricans would rather burn the vessels up than allow them to be captured.

than allow them to be captured.

Capt. Scott was busily engaged in fitting up a steamer to attack the vessels. He had four pieces of artillery on hand and was so well provided in this respect that he declined the offer of an American captainty. pect that he declined the offer of an American captain of a merchant vessel to give him a cannon. The steamer was fitting out at Point Arenas, a narrow sandy strip of land that juts out into the bay opposite and above, seven and a half miles from Greytown. Col. Lockridge is at this place with 217 men, in good condition and with ample military stores. Gen. Wheat, and several recruits by the James Agnes, are with him. The provisions are those that were sent from this city, and the soldiers declare that the New York bread and bacon are excellent, and very nalatable. The prospect was very declare that the New York bread and bacon are excellent, and very palatable. The prospect was very cheering for the Americans. They were daily expecting a reinforcement of 400 men from New Orleans in the steamship Texas, which left that place on the 29th of January, and in all probability arrived about the 1st of February at Graytown. They were reported to be able bodied young men, with plenty of arms and provisions to keep them for some time. As soon as they arrived, the three forts at the mouth of the Serapiqui were to be attacked, and doubtless by this time there has been hard fighting.

The communication was kept open with Gen. The communication was kept open with Gen. Walker, by some of the native runners, to and from a certain point in the lake. They use what is known as a bungo in crossing the lake, and so far Col. Lockridge has been thoroughly posted in reference to the wishes of Commander-in-Chief. Walker was still at Rivas and the story that he thought of capitulating is pronounced a sheer fabrication, manufactured out of whole cloth by the Panama Company, who spread these reports for very obvious reasons. As soon as the Texas arrived it was proposed As soon as the Texas arrived it was proposed by Walker's officers to land at small reach about seven and a half miles from the river Serapiqui, and about twenty-three miles above Greytown thence they were to march to the attack of the forts, one of which is situated directly opposite the river Serrapiqui, and the others on the right and left banks respectively, near its juneture with the San

Mr. Sturgis also learned, before leaving Sau Francisco, that the steamer which sailed to San Juan del Sur previous to his departure, had on board ninety-two recruits for Walker, all hardy fellows and with ample military stores and provisions. This news all taken together, makes Walker's position much better than was supposed, and a single success might re-establish his rule in Nicaragua permanently. Col.Kinney is at present living at Graytown in re-tirement. He has taken no part in the recent diffi-

tirement. He has taken no part in the recent diffi-culties; and though he has personal dislike for Walk-er, he avows his determination not to take any steps that would injure his countrymen. In any event, it is supposed his large claim to lands in Nicaragua will be admitted.

The parties who were taken from Greytown by the steamer Granada, were mostly deserters from Walk-er's army. They were mostly Germans and Irish, and but four out of the fifty are claimed to be Amer-leans.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL-For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Who Cough, Asthma, and Consumption, is universally known as the best remedy ever yet discovered for every variety of Pulmonary disease. So wide is the field of its usefulness. and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried its supe riority over every other medicine of its kind is too appa rent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate. By its timely use many, nay almost all attacks of disease upon the throat, are arrested and thus are saved many thousands every year from a premature grave. should be without it, and those who do neglect to provide themselves with a remedy which wards off this dangerous class of diseases will have cause to deplore it when it is too late. Proofs of the surprising efficacy of the Cherry Pectoral need not be given to the American people-they have living proofs in every neighborhood. But those who wish to read the statements of those whose whole health has been restored, and whose lives have been saved by its use will find them in my American Almanac, which the agent below named has to furnish gratis for every one.
